FEED GRAINS RELEASED FOR PURCHASE HERE

Adams County apparently has been declared a drought disaster section by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The county's disaster committee twice submitted application for the county to be listed among the disaster sections, basing the first request—which was denied—on the hail storm which wiped out crops on a number of farms in the county. The second request was based on both the effects of the hail and effects of the drought which continued after the hail storm.

J. Glenn Miller, office manager for the Adams County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee and secretary for the disaster committee, said this morning that he has received no word from Washington concerning disposition of the county disaster board's second request for listing of the county as a disaster area.

AMONG 49 COUNTIES

However an Associated Press dispatch from Washington this morning quotes U. S. Senator Joseph S. Clark as saying that he has been informed by U. S. Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman that the U. S. Department of Agriculture will release surplus feed grains held in government warehouses for sale to farmers in 49 drought disaster counties in the state. Adams County is listed as one of the 49 which also include: Allegheny, Armstrong, Beaver, Bedford, Blair, Bradford, Cambria, Carbon, Centre, Clearfield, Clinton, Columbia, Cumberland, Dauphin, Elk, Fayette, Franklin, Fulton, Greene, Huntingdon, Indiana, Jefferson, Juniata, Lackawanna, Lancaster, Lebanon, Luzerne, Lycoming.

Mifflin, Monroe, Montour, Northampton, Northumberland, Perry, Pike, Potter, Schuylkill, Snyder, Somerset, Sullivan, Susquehanna, Tioga, Union, Venango, Washington, Wayne, Westmoreland, Wyoming.

110 Engineers Are Ready To Back U.S. Order In Mississippi

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Gov. Ross Barnett of Mississippi failed to appear as the 5th U. S. Court of Appeals started contempt hearing for him today.

OXFORD, Miss. (AP)—Unofficial sources said today a weekend truce had been reached between Gov. Ross Barnett and Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy in the federal attempt to enroll Negro James H. Meredith in the all-white University of Mississippi.

Bolstering these reports, Mississippi's citizen army of highway patrolmen and volunteer sheriffs and police disappeared from the Ole Miss campus.

OXFORD, Miss. (AP)—A detachment of Army Engineers reached Memphis, Tenn., today to give administrative and logistic support to a force of federal marshals gathering to enforce court orders for enrollment of a Negro at the University of Mississippi.

Army and Justice Department spokesmen said the 110-man Engineer unit would provide supplies, meals, administrative services and possibly arrange living quarters for the marshals.

An Army spokesman emphasized that the Engineers will have absolutely nothing to do with affairs in Mississippi. They will remain at Memphis, 50 miles north of this college town.

49-TRUCK CONVOY

The Engineers—first federal troops to be ordered to any kind of duty in connection with the defiance of court orders by Mississippi's top officials—arrived at the Memphis Naval Air Station at 3 a.m. after a 200-mile overnight trip from Ft. Campbell, Ky.

Their 49-truck convoy included tractor-trailers carrying heavy equipment, tractor-drawn vans, jeeps and other vehicles.

"They have with them the capacity to set up a tent city to furnish bedding, cooking and type of service for the marshals," (Continued On Page 4)

ARENDSVILLE FIREMEN ARE CUTTING DEBT

The Arendtsville Fire Company today issued a report showing it has paid off $16,000 of its $25,000 debt for a new fire house during the last three years. The fire house was built in September, 1959. Company officials said they expect to complete payments by 1965.

Officials stressed their appreciation to the people of their community and to the auxiliary of the fire company for "tremendous support" in making possible the reduction of the debt by $16,000 during the three-year period.

The auxiliary alone during the three years has raised $6,000 which it donated to the fire company to help pay off the debt.

For the 150 members of the auxiliary and 25 members of the fire company, the three-year period has been one of almost continuous work on debt reduction.

HAVE BEEN BUSY

The firemen have been holding regular card parties during the winter months, with the first for this season to be held next Friday, October 5, at the engine house.

They have also become specialists in serving large groups of people. During the summer among other activities the firemen fed 450 attending the Waynesboro Business Association meeting at the South Mountain Fairgrounds, 300 attending the York Dental Association picnic at the fairground and 1,300 who attended the Carroll Shoe Company outing there.

An annual turkey and oyster supper attracts more than 700. In addition to paying off the $16,000 the Arendtsville firemen have also spent more than $1,500 during the three-year period in equipping the kitchen at the fire house, putting in hot water heaters, a tile floor and other improvements.

RAINFALL FOR MONTH CLIMBS

Early morning showers today sent the September rainfall total above normal and made this month the first since February with a surplus of rainfall.

The "surplus" for September so far is only about a tenth of an inch and that does not go very far toward offsetting the shortage of more than seven inches that has built up since March 1 in Gettysburg.

Rainfall in the 24-hour period ending at 8:30 o'clock brought a total of 125 inches of rain to The Gettysburg Times weather station rain gauge. It was the heaviest rain here since the storm on July 23 that brought the disastrous hail to western Adams County orchards.

The rain of the last 24 hours was more than fell here during the entire month of August.

September has had measurable amounts of rain on nine days and the total to date is 3.46 inches. Normal for the month here is 3.35 inches.

The August shortage was more than three inches, that for May was nearly two inches, June more than an inch and March, April and May had shortages of less than an inch apiece.

RECOMMENDS DIVORCE

Atty. S. M. Raffensperger recommends the divorce of Maxine Joyce (Stutler) Justice, Gettysburg R. 6, from Jerry William Justice, Aspers, in his report as master in the divorce filed in the prothonotary's office. Atty. Raffensperger recommended the divorce on grounds of indignities and desertion while stating that a charge of cruel and barbarous treatment was not proven. The couple wed January 23, 1960, and the desertion is listed as since November, 1960.

BUY HOME HERE

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd A. Durbaraw, Forest Heights, Md., have sold a property at 300 E. Middle St. to Mr. and Mrs. John D. Eckert, R. 4. The sale was made by Lee M. Hartman, local realtor.

Weather

Extended forecasts for Sept. 29 through Oct. 3.

Eastern Pennsylvania, southeastern New York and New Jersey — Temperatures are expected to average 2 to 7 degrees below normal. Cooler by Saturday with little day to day change thereafter. Rainfall may total one half inch or less falling mainly near the end of the period.

Middle Atlantic States — Temperatures will average 2 to 4 degrees below normal. Slowly rising temperature trend. Showers Tuesday or Wednesday may total one fourth inch or less.

Western Pennsylvania — Temperatures will average 2 to 4 degrees below normal. Continued cool Saturday and Sunday and then gradual warming through Wednesday. Precipitation will average around one half inch as rain ending Saturday or Saturday night.

DISCLAIMER IS RULED OUT

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate has voted to repeal the Communist disclaimer affidavit required under the government's college student loan program.

Instead, a member of a subversive organization who accepted such a loan would face up to five years in prison and a maximum fine of $10,000. A loyalty oath still would be required.

The Senate acted Thursday in passing a House bill that makes the same changes in the law affecting National Science Foundation fellowships. The House now will have to concur before the disclaimer affidavit can be repealed.

When President Kennedy was a senator he twice tried and failed to get the affidavit repealed. About 20 universities have declined to take part in the student loan program because of the disclaimer requirement.

BARCELONA, Spain (AP) — The United States sped relief to Spain's flood victims today as new rains spread more misery through the ravaged industrial districts around Barcelona.

NCCW DEANERY

Mrs. John Shields, Strong, president of the Harrisburg Diocesan Council of Catholic Women, spoke briefly. Miss Regina Burke of the Diocesan Board was also a guest.

Miss Joanne Tananis, McSherrystown, was guest soloist and presented three selections. She was accompanied by Miss A. Marie Budde, Littlestown, who also played for group singing of Irish and World War I songs. Msgr. McGee was a World War I Army chaplain.

Mrs. Altoff announced the room assignments for the institute to follow the dinner and suggested adoption of the slogan "Take hold where you are and lift up with your might wherever you can; do not wait to be asked but offer your services whenever you can; help your pastor, your parish or your council." It was also announced that the Special Diocesan Activities Fund must be collected by the end of the year. The next deanery meeting will be held on Thursday, November 29, tentatively at St. Joseph's Parish, Hanover, with a board meeting at 7:15 p.m., and an open meeting at 8 p.m. At that time the annual Day of Recollection and the annual pilgrimage dates will be set.

SPIRITUAL BOUQUET

The door prize, presented by the Annunciation Parish Council which was the hostess unit of the year, was received by Mrs. Bernard Walter, Bonneauville. Gifts were presented by the deanery to Miss Tananis and Miss Budde. Thanks were extended to the various committees on arrangements: Mrs. Henry More, dinner; Miss Margaret Smith, institute, and all those who assisted.

As a climax to the program, Msgr. McGee was presented with a spiritual bouquet card representing 50 masses offered for his intentions by the 21 priests and 15 parish councils of the deanery and a rosary was pledged by each parish council member. Msgr. McGee has served as dean since 1947. Msgr. McGee responded with appropriate remarks, saying,

"There is no time more important for the Catholic faith to stand out than now and during the coming Ecumenical Council. Please unite with all Catholics throughout the United States and throughout the world in praying that God will guide all of the hierarchy assembled." Msgr. McGee led in the prayer to Our Lady of Good Counsel and gave his blessing to those assembled.

INSTITUTE SESSION

Deanery chairmen met with their parish chairmen for the distribution of material, exchange of ideas and discussion of problems. The session for parish presidents and deanery officers was in charge of Vice President Charlotte Hagerman, with Mrs. Shields in an advisory capacity. The committees which met and the chairmen and vice chairmen who led the discussions were Civil Defense, Mrs. George Miller and Helen Lawrence; cooperation with Catholic charities, Mrs. Henry Moore and Mrs. Bernard Selby; family parent education, Mrs. Otto Matzel and Mrs. John Schmidt; foreign relief, Mrs. J. ## 25 COMPANIES TO SEND FIRE ENGINES HERE

Adams County firemen will fill Gettysburg's square with equipment Sunday, October 7, as part of their program for observance of Fire Prevention Week.

County Fire Marshal John Curran said today that each of the 25 fire companies throughout the county has been asked to send one piece of equipment, and men to explain it, to Gettysburg from 1 to 4 p.m. on October 7.

Murren said he anticipates some companies will send fire trucks, some rescue trucks, some portable pumps and set up displays of their operations. Some will bring portable power plants and set up displays showing how they operate.

Major William G. Weaver has made arrangements for most of Lincoln Square to be turned over to use by the firemen from 1 to 5 o'clock that Sunday afternoon.

PLAN DEMONSTRATIONS

The firemen from the various units accompanying the equipment will be selected as the members of the companies best able to explain to the general public such items as the cost and the uses of the various equipment shown.

In addition, Murren said, it is planned to have a number of special demonstrations of use of specific equipment during the afternoon.

A schedule for the afternoon's activities will be worked out, he said, at the meeting of the Adams County Firemen's Association Monday evening at McSherrystown and at the meeting of the Adams County Fire Chiefs' Association next Thursday.

In addition to the demonstration here on Lincoln Square, the fire chiefs throughout the county, with the assistance of the county firemen's association will distribute 3,000 book covers stressing fire prevention to the Fifth and Sixth Grade students in the county. Fire drills at schools and other events are also being planned for Fire Prevention Week.

BURY MRS. JOHNSON

Funeral services for Mrs. Rose I. Johnson, 83, widow of Robert Johnson, Fairfield R. 2, who died at the Warner Hospital Tuesday, were held this morning from the Bender Funeral Home at 9:15 o'clock with a requiem mass at 10 o'clock at St. Francis Xavier Catholic Church. The Rev. Fr. Joseph Kealy officiated. Interment was made in the church cemetery. The pallbearers were: James Mauston, Joseph, Bernard and Charles Carter, Gregory Williams and John W. Williams Jr.

critious foods we can possibly get. Today the person that we are really concerned about is the teen-age girl; she is the one who should have three good meals a day. To have beautiful hair, beautiful eyes, beautiful teeth and beautiful skin you must have three good meals a day. Beauty does not begin at the beauty parlor, but at the dining room table.

WOMAN RECEIVES CAKE

"Whenever you use lard, you will have the best cake, and it is a very economical shortening to use," Miss Hogan advised as she prepared a Banana Prune Cake. "Do not grease the sides of the pan you are using to make a cake, because the batter must have something to cling to, and it cannot cling to a greased pan. Tunnels can appear in a cake from overbeating after you have added the dry ingredients. Remember that when you add dry and liquid ingredients alternately that you should always start and end with the dry ingredients." Miss Hogan showed the proper way to remove the cake from the pans. This cake was later presented to Mrs. John Mickley in honor of her birthday. Miss Hogan also presented Mrs. Mickley with a Corning Ware tray.

Miller said that while no details have been received here, the practice used previously in other counties is for the local committee to be notified of the time of arrival of the cargo of grain. Notices are then sent to the farmers who are eligible to make the purchase because of the disaster conditions affecting them. The farmers then go to a rail siding and purchase the grain direct from the railroad car. Generally a schedule is drawn listing hours for the farmers eligible to avoid congestion and long waits at the railroad siding. When the grain has been unloaded from the railroad car or cars to the farmers' trucks, the railroad cars return to the midwest.

The grain is primarily to maintain basic livestock herds.

AT REDUCED PRICE

Under the law the grain is sold at 75 per cent of the support price for foundation herds. Senator Clark was quoted as saying,

"Since the 1962 support price for corn in Pennsylvania is $1.34 a bushel, the sale price will be $1.01. Purchase of feed grains for other than foundation herds will be at the full support price of $1.34 a bushel." Foundation herds were described as cows kept for the production of milk, male and female cattle, sheep and goats kept for breeding purposes, and replacement breeding stock customarily purchased in normal breeding operations.

Senator Clark was quoted as

A canned ham with grape jelly glaze was next prepared by Miss Hogan. She cautioned those buying canned hams to carefully read the label to see whether they are instructed to keep them refrigerated. "You can freeze small portions of ham if you must, but it will not taste the same as it did before you froze it. You sacrifice quality and you sacrifice flavor whenever you freeze ham, either cured or canned. The meat board does not recommend the freezing of ham; if you do freeze it, do not blame the packer for the change in texture, the change in its quality or for its change in flavor."

YEAST DOUGH

"Yeas dough is a most interesting thing to work with," she said as she prepared her Potato Refrigerator Rolls. "The more butter you put on the dough in preparing these rolls, the greater the flavor. Keep in mind that the temperature of the oven for the baking of cookies or rolls will always stay the same for large or small ones, but the difference will be in the length of baking time."

A five-layered sandwich suitable for luncheons because it can be made up ahead of time and kept in the refrigerator until time to toast it was the Golden Meat Sandwich, with fillings made from meat's cans.

Miss Hogan explained that a great deal of pork is used in the Far East while preparing Pork Mai Kai. She explained that this is a recipe that would at times require very close watching, the same as the preparation of any good gravy. "Much lard has been used in the treatment of many diseases. The meat board is sponsoring a great amount of research with the use of lard and meat products, with much emphasis on cholesterol."

"Every woman likes to prepare broiled foods, but hates to clean the broiler," she said as she prepared the Broiled T-bone Steak. She explained that the proper way to clean it is to place paper towels on which water and detergent have been added over the broiler pan as soon as the meat has been removed, and by the time the meal is finished the pan can be completely cleaned just by a very quick washing.

A fast way to flatten Sugar Cookies was demonstrated by Miss Hogan in her final recipe for the evening: the chilled cookie dough was shaped in round balls the size of a walnut and placed on a cookie sheet. Then with the use of a custard dish covered with a stockinet they were flattened very rapidly.

She explained the many conveniences of the appliance on the stage, and called attention to the displays of the cooperating merchants both on the stage and in the lobby.

Following an intermission, the garnished foods were again shown to a very appreciative audience in the "Portrait of Foods," using the revolving mirror.

EXPRESSES THANKS

Carl Baum, manager of The Gettysburg Times who has directed the cooking schools since their origin, expressed the appreciation of The Times, the merchants, and all those with whom Miss Hogan and Miss Turner had worked. "To reach the National Livestock and Meat Board lecturers, you must have a large audience; they generally plan their trips in metropolitan areas," he said; "it takes a lecturer who is interesting and informative to reach an audience so that they will want to return. We thank you for a very happy cooking school."

D. K. Nichols, branch manager of The Sherwin-Williams Co., Harrisburg, spoke on "The Importance of Color in Our Lives," before the opening of the school. "Thirty-five years ago, the people used a very moderate amount of color; today color is all around us, with 13,000 colors in use. This creates great color illusion and color confusion." Mr. Nichols demonstrated the great difference in shades of the same color by the use of lighting or surrounding colors. He was assisted by Miss Isabel Oyler, from the George M. Zerfing Hardware.

Awards For 3 BHS Students

For their outstanding scholastic achievement, Barbara Thomas, James Oyler, and Richard Giese were presented the scholastic award at Biglerville High School in an awards assembly today.

The Scholastic Award symbolizes the highest recognition of achievement offered by the school, and is based on work that a student completes in the sophomore and junior years. To qualify for this award, a student must have at least a 4.8 average in his major subjects. The student must carry at least five subjects each year and must have earned at least eight A's and two B's. Donald B. Hudson, superintendent of schools.

"Why are you walking that way?" the judge asked.

"If I'm in a kangaroo court I thought I ought to act like a kangaroo," the man replied. The judge lectured him on the dignity of courts and then let him go.

saying: "The evidence is now clear that the destruction of pastures and feed crops is beginning to push the price of feed out of reason. As winter approaches the only way we can protect our farmers against scalpers' prices is through use of government-held stocks."

OPEN PROGRAM FOR VOCATIONS

A new Catholic adult education program for vocations to the priesthood and sisterhood is being launched this week in the Diocese of Harrisburg, it was announced today.

Sponsored by the Most Rev. George L. Leech, Bishop of Harrisburg, and directed by the Most Rev. L. F. Schott, auxiliary to the bishop of Harrisburg, and director of vocations for the diocese, the program will be operated on a "parish saturation" basis. All adult parishioners attending Mass in the Catholic churches of the area are being given an illustrated, four-color booklet titled "Parents, You Have the Church's Future in Your Home."

ISSUE TEN BOOKLETS

These are the first in a series of ten booklets which will be distributed at the rate of one a month from September through June, designed to alert Catholic parents to every aspect of the vocation problem, and to answer their questions.

As the booklet points out, the Catholic population of the country has increased more than 47 per cent during the past ten years.

Vocations to the priesthood and the religious life are increasing, but not at the same rapid rate. This is causing concern to those looking toward the future development of the growing church in the Diocese of Harrisburg and in

I believe I am right in stating that very few people are known as they are. It usually takes an emergency, or some unusual circumstance to bring out the real self of a man or woman. That self then stands out so plainly!

We are creatures of moods. And only in certain moods do we show our real self.

These moods of ours are intensely personal. They are something rather sacred and shy as well.

How rare in character is that one who can lead out his best moods for the one or ones he loves — his real and genuine friends!

We even lock up many of these moods of ours for years, unlocking the room in which they swell only upon rare occasions for the rarest and most trusted of friends. The self we show may be far, far away from the real self that we are!

How often you hear the remark among a group of friends, while discussing an absent member: "Oh, I never liked him." This is usually the remark of another.

"Oh, I DO like him. I know him." Each one, you see, had been given an impression of the same person, but through the medium, perhaps, of vastly differing sets of moods.

Sometimes I feel the ones we really know best are those who have revealed themselves to us only in scattered moods — like whiffs of delicate perfume.

Much of ourselves we show to the world, but we keep that deeper and more precious self only for the favored, or beloved few!

Not that I would hope for people to own glass-cage moods, but that they might never show a mood that wasn't one they had nurtured as a mother might her child. That of us, which we throw about cheaply only helps to dissolve our personality and eliminate us as entities.

The self that we show should not be the self that everybody should know!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "We Never Know."

PRESBYTERY SESSION HELD ON TUESDAY

Rev. Thomas M. Severance was approved by the Carlisle Presbytery Tuesday as pastor of the First United Presbyterian Church, Newville. Rev. Severance, who is assistant pastor at the First Presbyterian Church, McKeever, Pa., will succeed Rev. John C. Peterson, who resigned. The new pastor will be installed on November 16.

The Presbytery met in the Dickson Presbyterian Church with Rev. Dr. J. Charles McKirahan, pastor of the Pine S. Presbyterian Church, Harrisburg, as moderator.

Another call was extended to Rev. Robert Rhodes, currently serving the Fannettburg and Burnt Cabin Churches, to assume also the pastorate of the Wells Valley Church, Wells Tannery, Pa. Rev. Rhodes, who will be installed on October 21, will be pastor and director of program of all three churches. The church was recently transferred from the Huntingdon Presbytery to the Carlisle Presbytery.

TWO PASTORS DISMISSED

The dismissal of two pastors was also announced. Rev. Robert Temple formerly of Dry Run, was transferred to Muskingham, Ohio, and Rev. Jack P. Wise, of Harrisburg goes to the Troy and Sylvana Churches in Northern Pennsylvania.

Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, state clerk of the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A., spoke at the afternoon session.

Dr. Blake, who recently returned from Europe and behind the Iron Curtain, spoke of some of his experiences while visiting churches in Communist countries.

He also reported on a study being held within the Presbyterian Church concerning church-state relations and about plans for future church unions.

Dr. Howard L. Rubendall, president of Dickinson College and a classmate of Dr. Blake at the Princeton Seminary, also spoke briefly.

BUDGET'S SHAVED

Shraples said the budget had been shaved from $2.5 million, but it couldn't be cut any more. He explained that the money was needed to put the Republican message across in newspapers and via billboards, television and radio. He illustrated by saying that 20 seconds of television time on a statewide network costs $2,500.

He said some elections had been lost to Republicans recently because the money ran out and the campaigns bogged down in the last two or three weeks.

He and others referred to private polls which showed Scranton maintaining a moderate lead, but the wealthy audience was advised not to count too heavily on favorable polls and be liberal with their cash.

Sharples said that the two dinners so embraced 61 counties and were expected to raise $735,000 of the campaign budget of $2.1 million. The balance, he said, would come from dinners in Pittsburgh and in Philadelphia, the latter covering five counties.

REPORTS ON CAMP

Rev. Russell M. Weer, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, and chairman of the Christian education committee, reported on the Camp Michaux summer operations. He told the Presbytery that the camp had a total of 747 campers and 150 leaders. Of the leaders 27 were ministers. The total operating expenses at the camp were $19,200.

Rev. Victor C. Detty, pastor of the host church, spoke about the church's history. He said the church was founded in 1823 and the present church building was constructed in 1829. He reported that the church was named Dickinson after the Philadelphia lawyer, John Dickinson, who, with Benjamin Rush, was instrumental in the founding of Dickinson College.

"Quite a few people would have been invited," Sharples chuckled at one point, "but we didn't know their names or we didn't know how much money they had."

Just Folks*ENIGMA

He saw a dog upon the street
And whistled him inside,
He got him out a plate of meat
And washed his tattered hide.

So plain the signs of hunger grim,
So thin the coat of white,
The man had but to glance at him
To understand his plight.

"Poor, hungry, homeless dog!"
said he,
"On whom all woes descend.
Come in and stay a while with me
And I will be your friend."

Next day upon that self-same street
A man with downcast eye
Begged him for something warm to eat,
But he went hurrying by.

Our ways are hard to catalogue
And so I wonder why
A man will feed a hungry dog
But pass his brother by.

AWAITS NEXT MOVE

Price said the members of the 70th Engineer Battalion, were armed because their maneuver was a mobility exercise.

Further moves in the showdown between federal and state authorities over attempts to enroll Negro James H. Meredith at the university were expected momentarily today.

Thursday the Justice Department called off a fourth attempt to get Meredith admitted. Both sides said the action probably averted violence and bloodshed.

Then the government began enlarging its force of marshals for further action, with Washington announcing that several hundred from around the nation were being sent to Memphis and that the Army Engineers also were being dispatched there.

NEW JFK ORDER

Use of federal troops to override state authorities would require a proclamation from President Kennedy.

On another front in the tense struggle between state and federal governments, a federal appeals court contempt hearing for Mississippi Gov. Ross Barnett, 64, was scheduled today in New Orleans.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy dramatically halted Meredith's fourth attempt to become the first Negro knowingly admitted to the university, saying he feared "major violence and bloodshed for the citizens of Mississippi" would result if U.S. marshals and Meredith appeared on the campus.

Lt. Gov. Paul B. Johnson of Mississippi agreed. An Atlanta television station, WSB-TV, quoted Johnson as saying in an interview Thursday night that "if the state troopers hadn't been at Ole Miss that Negro wouldn't have lasted as long as it takes to aim a shotgun."

Powerful Delaware Outfit Opposes Bullet Gridders Here On Saturday At 1:30

After dropping a spine-tingling 22-21 decision to Bucknell last week, Gene Haas, Gettysburg College football coach, reports that his squad is in good shape for its encounter with the powerful University of Delaware Saturday afternoon on Memorial Field. The first home game of the season for the Bullets will get underway at 1:30 o'clock.

With the exception of defensive end Roger Casciani, York, Haas will go with his regular personnel including junior quarterback Reed Ernst, Camp Hill, who turned in an adequate job a week ago. Casciani sustained a laceration of the left hand in the Bison encounter.

The Bullets have been spending the week brushing up on their pass defense which caused them trouble against Bucknell. Haas said, "We have been working a little more on our pass protection which was a major area of weakness." Pertaining to the line play, Haas said, "We were well pleased with the play of our first unit line where we admit and realize we have a very serious depth problem. The second unit is composed primarily of sophomores and inexperienced juniors and we realize that for several games, at least, we have to work them in a few minutes at a time until they gain the necessary game experience. The starting unit performed in a manner we expected in that they contained Bucknell's running game."

M A FAVORITES

Delaware top-ranked for the Middle Atlantic title, will come to Gettysburg riding on a 1-0 record on the strength of its 27-0 win over Lehigh last week. The Bullets will have to contend with a strong, speedy Hen backfield and a trio of powerful defensive ends.

Senior Ted Kempki, Wilmington, Del., is rated as the team's top ball handler from his quarterback slot, but Gettysburg will have to watch for the rifle arm of second unit signal caller Charles Zolak, a junior from Donora. Joe Slobjan, Glenside, and Mike Brown, Wilmington, Del., will fill the right and left halfback slots, respectively. Bulldozer Ron McCay, 5-9, 180, is the starting fullback.

Delaware will probably miss the services of its captain and center John Scholato, 6-0, 225. Scholato sustained an injury against Lehigh and is expected to miss the Bullet encounter. Norm Wilkerson, 5-11, 205, Turtle Creek, will take over the center post chores.

HEAVY LINE

John Messina, 6-0, 185; Ron Bianco, 6-0, 190, and Tom Harrison, 6-1, 205, are the three ends to be

Camp Hill Is Warrior Foe Here Tonight

Clearing skies today practically assure another big crowd tonight when the Gettysburg High Warriors (2-1) take on unbeaten Camp Hill (2-0) in a Blue Mountain Football League game here. Kickoff time is 8 o'clock.

A victory tonight is virtually a must for the Warriors if they hope to remain in contention for league honors.

Delone Catholic (1-2) plays at Lancaster Catholic (2-1) this evening in a Central Penn Catholic League game while Bermudian Springs (1-1) is at Juniata Joint (2-1).

Lancaster and Biglerville are scheduled for Saturday games. The Thunderbolts (1-2) play at West York (2-1) at 2 p.m. in a Laurel Conference contest while the Canners (0-2) will tangle with Boiling Springs, also 0-2, on the Bubblers' field at 8 p.m. in a Blue Mountain League tilt.

Future Pennant Is Campbell Goal

DETROIT (AP)—Jim Campbell, young and aggressive, jumped into his new job as the Detroit Tigers' general manager by making no pennant promises.

Improvement of a fifth-place team that had been expected to challenge the New York Yankees for the 1962 American League championship is the first step, Campbell said. A future pennant is the Tigers' ultimate goal.

"I feel a team can't say it had

AIR FORCE 11 GOING AFTER UPSET AT PSU

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP)—Penn State's mighty Nittany Lions, the country's fourth ranked college football power, clash with the upset-minded Air Force Academy Saturday in the first and only scheduled meeting between the two schools.

The Lions rocketed in the ratings this week by trouncing highly-touted Navy 41-7 last Saturday before 41,000 at Beaver Stadium.

The Falcons were equally impressive, wallowing Colorado State 34-0 last weekend in the first football game ever played at the new Falcon Stadium at Colorado Springs.

3 ON SIDELINES

As usual State Coach Rip Engle is worried, despite what he calls the "best opening game performance" by the Lions since he took over in 1950.

"We're good, but we won't be lulled into believing we're super," Engle declared in discussing this week's game.

Three Penn Staters—center and captain Joe Galardi, halfback Al Gursky who scored two touchdowns, and Orlando Cepeda, wide receiver—will be on the field because of injuries.

Ralph Baker is expected to fill in for Galardi while Tom Urbanik, a sophomore, will take over the vacant halfback position.

Boyce will share the field and extra point chores.

the most notorious and vicious of criminals.

Three crosses stand silhouetted against the sky. Three men wait for death today. Listen! You can hear them cry. The two thieves, vicious, cruel, evil men, hang suspended between earth and heaven. Bleeding and broken, they plead for the mercy of death. Their days of plunder and murder are ended. They sowed the wind. Today they reap the whirlwind.

BEHOLD, HE PRAYS

Can you feel it? There is something in the air, as if the Almighty Himself were on this hill. The darkness falls. The wind blows. The lightning flashes. The thunder rolls. Soon it will rain. The crowd scurries for shelter. Only the soldiers remain. The darkness of midnight hides the light of day.

Who is this Man? Could He be the Messiah? He has said, "He who hath seen Me hath seen the Father . . . I and the Father are one."

It is said that even the hold. He prays. In the midst of hatred and vengeance, His eyes are full of love and compassion.

The Stranger of Galilee is dying today. Yet somehow, even in death, He seems to be triumphant.

Then why? Why does He die?

This is my beloved Son, in whom

I am well pleased; hear ye Him."

And who can deny His power?

The deaf hear, the blind see, the crippled walk, even the dead live!

VOCIE ECHOES

Then why? Why does He die?

The Messiah on a cross! The Son of God hanging on the cursed tree! The Creator at the mercy of the creature! But listen! It is as if the voice of the ancient prophet were echoing across the centuries of time: "He is despised and rejected of men: a man of sorrows, and acquainted with grief . . . But He was wounded for our transgressions, he was bruised for our iniquities: the chastisement of our peace was up on Him; and with His stripes we were healed." And remember what

He Himself said, "I am the Good

Shepherd. I lay down my life for the sheep. No man taketh it from Me, I lay it down of Myself. I have power to lay it down, and I have power to take it up again."

Listen! His lips are moving

"It is finished!" The cry reverberates across Golgotha's brow.

It is the cry of triumph. The Nazarene is dying. He bows His head in death. But it is a death of triumph. The work of redemption is finished. The price of sin is paid. The pardon of mercy is provided. His outstretched arms will may come.

Now the heavens seem to open.

Torrents of rain begin to fall. The lightning flashes silhouetting the cross in majestic splendor. There it stands, "towering o'er the wrecks of time." The sign of the curse has been transformed into the symbol of salvation, the altar of redemption, the throne of glory . . . the glory of the cross.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Mrs. Katharine Bennett Martindale, director of the state Republican Speakers Bureau and past president of the Pennsylvania Council of Republican Women, Mrs. Martindale said,

"The Republican party is presently offering the voters of Pennsylvania a ticket that has never been excelled. On a state level it includes James E. Van Zandt for senator; William W. Scranton for governor; Raymond P. Shafer for lieutenant governor; Judge Samuel J. Roberts for the state Superior Court and Audrey R. Kelly for secretary of internal affairs.

"And in Adams County the list includes Congressman Goodling and Harry D. Ridinger, your candidate for the general assembly.

It is questionable whether this ticket has ever in the long history of the state been equaled in qualifications and all-around capability."

County Republican Chairman H. Earl Pitzer presided at the meeting. He introduced James Feather-

MISSILE MAKER MAY TAKE OVER AT QUEHANNA

A Lovelier You

By MARY SUE MILLER

WINTERIZING YOUR SKIN.

HARRISBURG (AP) — A leading maker of rocket and missile engines may soon take over the idle Curtiss-Wright facilities at Quehanna in central Pennsylvania, according to a highly optimistic report by Gov. Lawrence.

The governor said Wednesday the Commonwealth has been negotiating with Aerojet-General for possible establishment of a production center at the vast facility in Clearfield, Cameron and Elk Counties.

Recent conversations with Aerojet President Dan Kimball indicates the firm is pleased with conditions at Quehanna, he added.

CONTRACTS HOLD KEY

Lawrence said the key to a final decision rests on whether Aerojet is successful in competition for specific government contracts for which the Quehanna installations and acreage would be suitable.

"It is anticipated that the decision on these competitions will be forthcoming in a matter of several weeks," the governor said, adding:

"From the progress we have made thus far I am highly optimistic that this firm will become a corporate citizen of Pennsylvania."

HOST INSTALLATION

Currently, the bulk of Aerojet's operations are on the West Coast. Aerojet is a subsidiary of the General Tire and Rubber Co.

Quehanna, which encompasses some 50,000 acres, was built by Curtiss-Wright at the peak of its jet engine contracts with the federal government. Curtiss-Wright bought and leased the land from the state.

Presently, however, it is little more than a ghost installation.

Lawrence also held out the possibility that some of the undeveloped area on the Quehanna site will be returned to the state for game and forest lands.

GOP SCRAMBLE RECALLED BY OTIS MORSE

HARRISBURG (AP) — Sen. Hugh Scott "dishonestly and deliberately misquoted" former President Dwight D. Eisenhower to secure the Pennsylvania Republican gubernatorial nomination for William W. Scranton, says the Democratic state chairman.

Democrat Otis B. Morse said Wednesday that Scott "exhibited colossal contempt for Pennsylvania's voters" by attributing to Eisenhower a statement that Superior Court Judge Robert E. Woodside for governor and Rep. James E. Van Zandt for U.S. senator constituted a "miserable ticket."

Woodside withdrew in favor of Scranton after the "miserable" statement last February.

Noting that Eisenhower denied making the remark at a party rally Tuesday night in Bedford Springs, Morse asked in a statement:

"Who has lied to the people of

Decision Barring PUC Is Upheld

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A U.S. District Court decision barring the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission from intervening in damage suits against electrical firms convicted of price-fixing has been upheld by the Third U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

The commission, which had appealed from a decision handed down last Oct. 2 by Judge William H. Kirkpatrick, sought to intervene in five suits brought against heavy electrical equipment manufacturers by the Philadelphia Electric Co. The firm is seeking triple damages.

In the lower court and in its appeal, the PUC said it should be allowed to intervene because it is the only agency that can legally protect the interests of the citizens of Pennsylvania. It said it should have a part in any settlement of claims against the electrical firms which were convicted in 1961.

SEES SPREAD IN ATOMIC POWER

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A Westinghouse Electric Corp. official predicted Thursday that by 1962 some 50 per cent of new power generating equipment ordered will be in atomic plants.

Donald J. Povey, manager of electric utility systems, singled out one new power source, known as "MHD," as having "the brightest promise of all."

"In an 'MHD'" (magnetohydrodynamics) generator, he said, electricity is produced by passing a supersonic stream of white-hot Pennsylvania?

"There certainly is no reason to even question the veracity of a former president. Therefore, it is quite obvious that Senator Scott dishonestly and deliberately misquoted General Eisenhower to maneuver his personal choice of Congressman Scranton into line for the Republican gubernatorial nomination."

SENATE STORY ON JUNKETING IS HARD TO GET

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress, which criticizes executive agencies for withholding information from the public, often is much less frank about its own activities.

This is particularly true of official travel, or junketing or other expenses of the members.

The practice is more prevalent in the Senate than in the House. It is almost impossible to find out how much money a senator spends. Unlike the Senate, the House makes available at all times the staff payrolls of its members, including the names of individuals and their salaries.

PROBLEM OF ACCESS

The House also publishes annually a statement of foreign travel spending by its members and committees, but the document lacks details and is long outdated when made available.

Executive agencies sometimes invoke "executive privilege" in withholding information, a practice criticized by a special House committee on government information. President Kennedy has taken the position that this privilege may be invoked by agencies only if he authorizes it.

Although Congress has erected few, if any, direct roadblocks in the path of the public's right to know what's going on in the way of congressional junketing or the expenditure of public funds, the information may no longer be news when finally obtained.

For example, the law requires an annual accounting by all congressional committees and legislators on expenses incurred while traveling on official business, either inside or outside the United States.

But the accounting does not have to be made and published until after the first 60 days of each calendar year. But that time the information can be a year old.

Even then it seldom is complete. Spending is listed under general headings — travel, lodging, meals and miscellaneous. Supporting vouchers explaining the details are not available.

Frustations, difficulties and delays often plague newsmen trying to find out what's going on in the way of congressional junketing or the expenditure of public funds.

Dismissed federal grand jury indictments against them and commented: "However nefarious, the scheme did not involve the element of chance."

Trevor Howard, the British actor, says he may quit England for the United States or some other country because a London court withdrew his driving privileges for eight years. Howard, who drew the penalty when convicted of drunken driving, said he can't imagine life without driving. As for the possibility he may leave England, he said: "They have driven me to it."

U.S. Dist. Judge Kenneth P. Grubb ruled in Milwaukee that when you bet on a sure thing, it isn't gambling and doesn't violate the antigambling laws. The decision came in the case of three men whose two-way radio hookup enabled them to place bets with Milwaukee bookies on races that already had run at Oaklawn race track in Hot Springs, Ark.

FORM SRHE TO PUT RELIGION IN EDUCATION AT HIGH LEVEL

By RONALD AUTRY

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—Does religion have a place in American higher education?

The Society for Religion in Higher Education, an organization of distinguished educators, believes it does.

In this view it should be a genuine part of the curriculum and of campus life. It should influence the concept of the college and university.

"If religion is included in campus life and in the intellectual dialogue," says the executive director, Lawrence P. DeBicer, "it makes a difference how educators view the educational process."

INDISPENSABLE WAY

"It might well affect student-family relations and the goals of the university."

One concern of the society is high-level instruction in religion at both public and private institutions.

The study of religion, says DeBoer, is one indispensable way to discover the source of values by which men live. It digs "into the roots of our Western traditions which perennially inform our culture."

Moreover he says, the study of religion may help bridge the gaps between cultures by clarifying the basic differences in values and "discovering common ground."

It is necessary to know Hinduism before India can be understood and similarly, DeBoer says, "you cannot know American life without an acquaintance with our Judeo-Christian heritage.

He emphasizes that "in the present world an adequate religion curriculum must include both Western and Eastern religions as well as the religions of underdeveloped countries. An understanding of native African religions is especially important now."

The society was formed officially Sept. 10 by the merger of two groups little known to the public but with prestige in educational circles.

They are the National Council on Religion in Higher Education and the Danforth Teaching Fellows. They long have had the common interest of religion in higher education.

In this view it should be a genuine part of the curriculum and of campus life. It should influence the concept of the college and university.

SCHELL WILL DUB "HAMLET" INTO ENGLISH

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—No man for false modesty, Oscar winner Maximilian Schell nevertheless holds to the late Humphrey Bogart's theory about acting awards. The only way to really judge the best acting is to let each contender tackle the same role, say "Hamlet."

If such ground rules are ever adopted by the Motion Picture Academy—and I doubt if the stodgy group will ever be so progressive—Schell is ready. He has already done his "Hamlet."

He did it two years ago for German television. He is here now to dub it into English for showing at the San Francisco Film Festival in November. Later it will get an Art-House release throughout the country.

OFFERS ARE BETTER

Schell paused during a dubbing session to discuss the Oscar's effect on his life. He admitted that it has helped him financially. "The offers are better, though I haven't accepted any of them yet," he said.

Psychologically, it's another matter. "The Oscar is a peak, so the only place you can go is down. But there are other peaks to be found."

Schell won the award last April morning between 4:30 and 5 a.m. McKean said the young woman told them that she stabbed the baby with a paring knife, then stuffed the body into a paper bag which she dropped into the river from a bridge as she walked to work.

McKean said investigation substantiated Miss Ferguson's statement that she reported for work at the regular time about 5:30 a.m., but became ill late in the day and had to go home.

The baby's birth, unattended, took place in Miss Ferguson's bedroom while other members of her family were asleep, Chief McKean said no was told.

for his role as the defender of Nazi war criminals in "Judgment at Nuremberg." He claims it was the result of "a lucky constellation."

"Lucky plays such a great part in acting," he said, "I was lucky that Burt Lancaster wasn't nominated this year for 'Elmer Gantry,' or he would have won."

"I was lucky that Stanley Kramer (the director) threw everything toward me, giving me shots that ordinarily wouldn't have been mine."

I asked Schell how "Judgment at Nuremberg" fared in Germany.

"Oddly enough, it was the only country in which the picture did not make money," he said, "although I understand it did better business after I received the award."

"Why didn't it go well in Germany? I suppose because Germans don't like to be told by Americans that they had done wrong. It would be the same reaction in this country if the Germans were to make a movie about Little Rock."

AEC IS CUTTING APRON STRINGS AT LOS ALAMOS

By HAROLD R. WILLIAMS

LOS ALAMOS, N. M. (AP)—The federal government is preparing to cut the Los Alamos atomic apron strings.

But most of the 13,600 residents of this atomic city don't like the prospect and wish they could continue under the benevolent thumb of the Atomic Energy Commission.

A bill awaiting President Kennedy's signature provides for disposal of all Los Alamos property not directly connected with AEC projects. The action follows similar disposals at Oak Ridge, Tenn., and Delaware River. Named for the creek.

Citizen—Kettle Creek State Park for the park on the shores of the reservoir formed by the new Alvin R. Bush Dam on Kettle Creek.

Luzerne—Frances Slocum State Park on A br a h a m s Creek. Named for the woman who was abducted at the age of 10 in 1778 by a band of Delaware Indians and discovered some 50 years later living in an Indian settlement in New Reserve, Ind. Her family lived in the Wyoming Valley at the time she was abducted.

Moraine, Neshaminy, Warriors Path and Frances Slocum Parks are now under development. Kettle Creek was completed this summer.

The AEC will sell and give away residences, businesses, even churches, schools and the police station.

EFFECTS ON TAXES

Another reason Los Alamos doesn't like the changeover is because of the big bite it will take out of the pocketbook.

With the AEC owning everything, there were no taxes other than personal because the federal government can't be taxed. Now with Los Alamos residents owning their homes and ground, taxes will make a bigger dent in the take home pay.

The AEC will sell and give away residences, businesses, even churches, schools and the police station.

CHANCE TO BUY

Los Alamos has some 3,500 dwelling units, ranging from kitchenette apartments to single-family homes, the latter in the minority only 34 per cent.

The person living in the house at the time of the sale will be given first chance to buy it. Storekeepers will get an opportunity to purchase their business buildings.

There are 45 stores. The total community facilities to be put up for sale are estimated to be worth $36 million.

TO DONATE FACILITIES

The federal government will donate municipal facilities valued between $22 and $24 million. Most of these are churches, schools, parks, a hospital and county offices.

The proposed new law provides for spending $8.7 million in improvements which will likely include a new courthouse, and $2 or $3 million in annual subsidies over a 10-year period.

Actual sale of the real estate is not expected to start before mid-1964. The Federal Housing Administration must appraise the homes, each one separately, and this isn't expected to be done until early 1964.

UPPSALA Sweden (AP)—The Geological Institute of Uppsala University registered another Soviet nuclear test Thursday in the Novaya Zemlya area.

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates announced Thursday the signing of pitcher Andrew Davault, 18, of Aux Trebles, Quebec, Canada, to a minor league contract for 1963.

Davault, a righthander, will report to the Pirates Batavia, N.Y., farm club in the Class D New York-Pennsylvania League.

He is the younger brother of pitcher Ray Davault of the New York Mets.

BERLIN (AP)—East German Communist authorities, beset by food shortages, are urging collective farms to use potato tops for animal fodder despite the danger of poisoning.

Rugs Do A 'Twist'

Texture Adds New Dimension To Room Decorating Schemes

"How do you like the twist?" If a carpet salesman asked you this question, he probably would not be talking about a current dance craze. More likely, he would just be discussing one of the many texture styles now available in carpets and rugs.

Texture plays a big role in home furnishings and ranks side-by-side with color in establishing the "mood" of a room, or emphasizing the style in which a room is decorated.

And, like color, texture has become so varied that you have a wide range of choice in carpets and rugs.

Besides the "twist"—which simply means that strands of pile yarns have been twisted together for a special texture effect—you can choose from a number of other styles. Here are some of the most common types:

Cut pile—This texture is a familiar one. Straight cut yarns form an even pile surface, especially luxurious when the pile is deep and thick. This velvety texture is often described as "plush pile."

Looped pile—Instead of being cut, surface yarns are looped for a texture that may be long and shaggy or low and dense, depending on the style of the carpet.

Either looped or cut pile yarns may be twisted, and many carpets and rugs today have a combination of cut-and-uncut (or cut-and-looped) pile yarns.

Within these broad categories of cut pile and looped pile, there are variations such as high-low textures, loops arranged for a "ridged" or "treebranch" effect, combinations of "hard twist" and "soft twist" cut yarns, loops designed to form a geometric pattern in the textured surface.

"Scroll" or "sculptured" patterns may also be seen in textured surfaces. Generally, these patterns, together with solid-color cut pile, are most formal looking carpet types and lend themselves beautifully to elegant furnishings.

Twist textures, loops or shaggy uncut yarns are frequently used with informal furnishings. In many smartly-styled contemporary rooms, a definite heavy texture is chosen for the carpet to complement smooth furniture finishes and sleek fabrics.

Special texture effects are sometimes achieved by "carving"—a process by which skilled craftsmen using electric hand clippers carve designs into thick plush pile. Another is "random-shearing," where some of the looped yarns are sheared to form a random cut and looped texture.

When you select texture, you will, of course, pick a carpet you like from the standpoint of appearance. But in most cases, you will also give some thought to the practicality of a carpet or rug texture.

Carpets with a definite texture sold their appearance well under constant traffic. For areas in daily use, it's best to choose a well-constructed, dense carpet with a tight-looped, tight-twist or combined cut-and-looped texture, or an especially dense cut-pile texture.

These carpets with texture interest are less likely to show "shading" than a solid-color, plain "plush" pile. Shading is not a defect; in fact, it is often considered desirable, since it produces an interesting lighting effect on a solid-color carpet. It simply means that light is reflected in varying ways as carpet tufts are bent under pressure, as is true of all pile fabrics.

So choose your carpet and rug textures from the dual standpoint of function and beauty—and add the "third dimension" of texture to your home decorating.

Substantial Savings On Fuel Costs

Installed in recommended amounts, insulation keeps heating fuel bills down, lessens the cost of air conditioning and makes a house more comfortable throughout the year.

What's more, good insulation never wears out and adds to the resale value of any home throughout its lifetime.

When enough mineral wool is installed in walls, ceilings and other areas where it reduces heat loss sharply. This enables the home owner to save as much as 40 per cent on heating fuel.

In summer, the proper amounts of mineral wool insulation helps to keep heat outside the house which results in greater comfort inside.

A significant saving is realized by using sufficient insulation when a house is to be air conditioned. Tests prove that adequately thick mineral wool insulation installed where needed cuts down the size of cooling equipment required and its operating costs.

NEW DESIGNATIONS

Practically all mineral wool manufacturers have switched from the old method of classifying their products by inches of thickness to a system of "R" designations.

"R" means "resistance to heat flow out of a house in winter or into it in summer." Instead of describing what the insulating material is, the "R" factor tells what its effect will be after it is installed. The greater the "R" number, the more effective the insulation.

For a comfortable, well insulated house, bats or blankets of mineral wool marked R-19 should be put in ceilings, R-11 in walls, and R-13 in floors.

Other insulation materials are made of rock wool, glass, slag, paper pulp, gypsum, asbestos, cork, aluminum foils, vermiculite, cotton and other vegetable and mineral matter.

Insulating a house also can be a do-it-yourself project. During remodeling or before a new home is completed, it's a comparatively easy matter for the home handyman to place bats or blankets of mineral wool between ceiling joists.

Here are some basic rules to follow:

COMPLETE LIST OF BEDDING STANDARD SIZES

77½" x 80"	77½" x 84"
75½" x 80"	75½" x 84"
72" x 80"	72" x 84"
60" x 80"	72" x 84"
60" widths are also made in 75" lengths.
53" widths are made in 75", 80" and 84" lengths.
38" widths are made in 75", 80" and 84" lengths.

All older, smaller standard sizes are still available.

New, longer rollable and folding cots are available in lengths up to 82."

observe for a good insulating job:

1. Use insulation of proper "R" factor in all exposed walls, ceilings, and floors over unheated areas.

2. Trim the insulation a bit larger than the space it is to cover, leaving a flange of vapor barrier at each end. With a very sharp knife or blade cut along a piece of board or straight edge.

3. Fit the insulation tightly between joist, studs or rafters with vapor barrier overlapping the wood framing members at the end of the space. The barrier should be towards the side of the house that is heated in winter.

4. Nail or staple the flange to the wood at the end of the space, and along the facing side of the joist, rafter or stud.

5. Wedge the next batt or blanket against the end of the first one.

6. Do not ignore small spaces, as they greatly reduce the insulation's efficiency if left uncovered.

7. If in doubt about the proper "R" number, get the higher one, for the slight extra cost will pay for itself in comfort and savings.

An existing home can be fully insulated with mineral wool without damage to walls or ceilings by having the insulation blown into inaccessible areas.

This job is done by an insulation contractor who has the necessary equipment. Loose mineral wool blown through a flexible hose into all cracks and corners and around all pipes and wires. The siding removed to insert the hose nozzle is replaced carefully after the walls are tightly filled. Ceilings are done by bringing the hose through an attic window.

Handy Hints for Homeowners

TINY TOUCH-UPS

Use your finger to dab on paint in making very small touch-ups on painted moldings. The sensitivity of your fingertip will give you exact control.

NAIL STOPS BINDING

Eliminate binding while rip-sawing by tapping a large nail or screwdriver into the slot behind the saw.

ERASE RUST

Light rust on hand tools or appliances can be removed by rubbing vigorously with a hard type writer eraser.

Feature Home Of The Week

A SMALL HOUSE PLANNING BUREAU DESIGN NO. F-643

DESIGN F-643. This home could be arranged on a suburban plot, a city or corner lot. For a narrow plot, garage doors and windows can exchange places, permitting a straight driveway.

The utility area serves as laundry, mud room and outside entrance. There are lots of work and cabinet space, appliances, even a dishwasher in the kitchen and a large family room.

All four bedrooms have floor-to-ceiling wardrobe closets. The master bedroom has its own adjoining lavatory. The hall bath has a vanity-lavatory.

A covered garage passage opens to central vestibule. Natural stone covers three walls of garage, extends to a wainscot under bedroom windows, combines with vertical siding. Floor area is 1,632 square feet; cubage, 30,281 cubic feet (not including garage).

For further information on DESIGN F-643, write the Small House Planning Bureau, St. Cloud, Minn. In Canada, Small House Planning Bureau, St. John, New Brunswick.

Sunshades And Fences Make Patio Areas More Enjoyable

BOLD CONTRAST is the keynote of this contemporary patio. The blacks and whites of beams and paneling are repeated in the abstract mask. Though simplicity of line is maintained, the effect is warm and informal.

Terraces, patios, and breezeways are three of the more common areas for outdoor living. Dressing them up for greater utility during the summer months is a very popular pastime.

Some of the more practical accessories for pleasant outdoor living area are permanent overhead sunshades, solid or partially open trellises, arbors, and fences. Some or all of them in varying combinations and with attractive landscaping will provide a literal bower for family relaxation and informal entertaining.

Selection of lumber is important, and should be done with the advice of your local lumber dealer. Since they are extremely workable and widely available, any one of the 11 woods from the Western Pine region will be a wise choice.

Remember that care in construction and finishing will pay big dividends in good appearance and long life. All parts that are underground should be treated with preservative, preferably one that contains pentachlorophenol, to guard against rotting and termites. Exposed ends above the ground should be similarly treated.

Vertical sunshades also serve a variety of purposes in outdoor planning. They are often used to set off one area from another, or to provide privacy for part of the area.

FENCING FOR PRIVACY

If privacy is an objective, handsome fences in new designs will fulfill this requirement without giving a "fenced-in" feeling.

In fact, there are fences that give a measure of protection yet do not completely exclude light and breeze. These are ideal for setting off an area containing a swimming pool.

A high fence can be made of vertical planks mounted alternately on the front and back of a framework to keep kids and animals out but let breezes through, or with blocks cut from two-by-fours and put up in an

Adequate Wiring Is Essential To Up-Dating The Home Electrically

Let's consider the cost of rewiring your home. And as we do, let's also consider the value of thus keeping up to date electrically.

Wiring costs are not only "worth it," but because an adequate wiring installation lasts for such a long time, the costs are downright cheap!

It costs no more to wire a house than to paint one, yet while the paint lasts only a few years, the wiring installation will be good for the life of the house. Compare the benefits you receive from each. While painting is unquestionably important, the benefits of FULL HOUSEPOWER continue to be enjoyed by occupants every day in the long electrical life of the house.

It can mean, besides, such luxuries as ice and snow-free driveways, automatic garage door openers, remote control lighting throughout the house, baby bottle warmers, portable refrigerators and countless other new and forthcoming applications of electricity.

If you have invested in electrical appliances (or want to) then take stock of your electrical wiring.

Homes of today need at least 100-ampere service, with both 120 and 240-volt available at the main panel. You need at least two 20-ampere appliance circuits, serving the convenience outlets in your kitchen and dining areas, as well as "general purpose" circuits for lights and convenience outlets in others in other parts of the house. These are the wires which distribute electricity to the points at which it is used, and which make it possible to use as many lamps and appliances as you wish—all at once.

Remember that wiring is one of the home improvements which qualifies under FHA Title I financing. So check with your local office of the Federal Housing Administration, or with your local banks or other lending institutions, for the possibility of financing your home's rewiring.

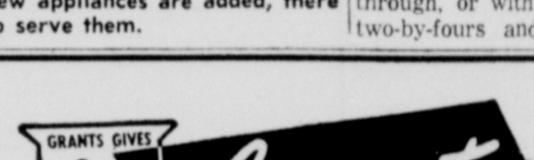

Often, power companies have an arrangement with their customers and with local electrical contractors to "wire-on-time" and the cost of the wiring installation goes right on the customer's electric bill and is spread over a period of four to six months or longer.

So do some investigating—call an electrical contractor and find out how you can enjoy the benefits and, indeed, the magic, of FULL HOUSEPOWER and modern electrical living.

Heat-treated, weather resistant extrusions from Alcoa aluminum. Easy-glide triple track . . . window and screen are self-storing. Full protection with prowler-proof lock, full weather stripping. Sizes to 38x72'.

FULL HOUSEPOWER enables this happy homemaker to enjoy all the benefits of a multiplicity of modern electric appliances to lighten her kitchen chores. Because her home has been re-wired with a view to future needs as well, even when new appliances are added, there will be plenty of electrical capacity to serve them.

WOMAN, 30, IS CHARGED WITH BABE'S DEATH

ALLEN TOWN, Pa. (AP)—A 30-year-old woman, quoted by authorities as saying she choked her two-month-old daughter because she feared the child had a disease and did not want to see her suffer, was charged with murder today.

Mrs. Elizabeth R. Hartman of nearby Fullerton was committed to Lehigh County Prison without bail to await a preliminary hearing in the death of the infant, Marie Elizabeth, Thursday.

Investigators, including Dist. Atty. George J. Joseph, said Mrs. Hartman had been upset since her pregnancy and was under the belief she was suffering a disease.

FREE OF DISEASE

Authorities said neither Mrs. Hartman or the child had any disease.

Joseph said that Mrs. Hartman and her husband, Richard, a salesman, had visited a physician Wednesday night. He said the parents received flu shots and the baby was given a regular check-up. The child was found healthy and normal, said Joseph.

Marie was the couple's only child. They have been married six years.

WAS STRANGLED

Hartman told police when he came home Thursday between 3 and 4 p.m. his wife told him she had choked the baby with her hands. He said he raced to Marie's crib in the nursery and attempted to revive her with mouth-to-mouth resuscitation, then called the family doctor, Dr. Vincent J. Jeram of Allentown.

Jeram told police the child was dead when he arrived.

An autopsy disclosed Marie died of strangulation, said officials. They said she had signs of bruises on her throat.

Police quoted Hartman as saying that when he left home Thursday morning everything appeared normal.

HEAVY SMOKING

WASHINGTON (AP) — Americans will smoke 497.5 billion cigarettes this year, spending a record total of $6.88 billion for them, the Agriculture Department predicted today.

The consumer outlay for all tobacco products was forecast at more than $7.8 billion. Spending for cigars would trail far behind cigarettes, with $645 million forecast.

DICK POWELL HAS CANCER; TELLS SCRIBES

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"I always insist on the truth because there is too much at stake," said actor-producer Dick Powell. Then he calmly told newsmen that he's under treatment for what he's under treatment for.

The versatile show business veteran was cheerful throughout the discussion of his condition Thursday and said he was confident of making a full recovery.

Alluding to his apparent good health, he asked with a smile: "Do I look like a terminal case?" Powell, 57, and his wife, actress June Allyson, met with newsmen in the couple's Beverly Hills home.

The actor-producer, who heads the highly successful and prolific Four Star Productions, then disclosed that he has been receiving radiation treatments for a malignancy on a gland on the right side of his neck and another in a pocket in his chest.

Powell said he had been hesitant about talking of his illness until "all these rumors got all over town."

"One rumor," he said, "had me having a tremendous heart attack. Now that I know so much about cancer I am more afraid of getting pneumonia."

He explained that he had received six radiation treatments at the UCLA Medical Center and added that the physician in charge, Dr. Justin Stein, "is pleased with my progress and told me he expects to eliminate the condition."

Powell said he'll return to his studio Tuesday to complete six television shows in which he will appear under contract to the NBC network. Next spring he hopes to leave for San Francisco aboard his 63-foot cruiser.

May Add To Pa. Game Land Area

HARRISBURG (AP)—Possible acquisition of about 5,700 acres of new state game lands will be considered at the quarterly meeting of the State Game Commission here Oct. 1-2.

The meeting Monday coincides with the opening of the 1962 archery deer hunting season. An estimated 50,000 archers are expected to participate in the season before it closes Oct. 26.

Commission officials said Thursday the meeting also would consider opening 21 game propagation areas and other special areas for hunting deer in Warren, Armstrong, York, Jefferson, Indiana, Huntingdon, Blair, Bedford, Columbia, Susquehanna, Berks and Luzerne counties.

Say Fish Ladders Needed On 4 Dams

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Pennsylvania delegation has stressed to Interior Department officials the need for fish ladders on four power company dams on the Susquehanna River.

The group, headed by Maynard M. Bogart chairman of the Pennsylvania Fish Commission, explained their position Thursday in a conference with Asst. Secretary Frank Briggs and other department officials.

Albert M. Day, executive director of the Pennsylvania Fish Commission; Basse A. Beck, general manager of the Sunbury (Pa.) Item and chairman of the Fishways Committee of the Pennsylvania Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs, and Pierce Cyryl, the federation's attorney, attended the conference.

DEATHS

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Dr. William F. Walz, 90, who was president in 1919 of the National Board of Dental Examiners, died Tuesday.

LONDON (AP)—Alexander Zass, 75, once a cavalry officer in the Tsar's Russian imperial forces and for many years billed in circuses as "Samson" the strongest man in the world, died Wednesday.

IKE AROUSED OVER DEFIADE IN MISSISSIPPI

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower says federal laws must be enforced to admit Negro James Meredith as a student to the University of Mississippi.

Referring to Gov. Ross Barnett of Mississippi, Eisenhower told a news conference Thursday night:

"Now, here is a governor defying for awhile the assistance of the National Guard, armed and paid for by the federal government, and defying the federal courts. This is absolutely unconscionable and indefensible."

Eisenhower, here for a Pennsylvania Republican fund-raising dinner, said he is positive the Kennedy Administration "will do something" to require the university to admit Meredith in accordance with federal court orders.

CAN'T HAVE DEFINACE

"It will have to be done because, otherwise, the federal government and the federal judiciary will be completely defied," said the former President. "You just can't have that."

When asked about remarks by former Army Gen. Edwin A. Walker—who commanded federal troops called in 1957 in the Little Rock, Ark., integration issue—that Walker had declared himself opposed to troops in Mississippi, Eisenhower said:

"I don't know what Walker said. I don't think I know the gentleman, but I'll tell you this, don't ever believe that this federal government can afford to evade its responsibility of enforcing federal law."

"We did not have trained marshals (in the Little Rock situation) — I say reserve marshals—that could come in and do this without the calling in of troops. And I promptly called them in."

SCUFFS POPULARITY

The subject of politics, Eisenhower said President Kennedy's visits to Pennsylvania would not help the Democrats retain control of the state's government.

He said presidential popularity cannot be rubbed off.

"It's always a mistake to think personal popularity rubs off," said Eisenhower. "I would be the last person to say that (Kennedy) can't do something for his party by coming here, but I will say this, he can't do enough."

Pennsylvania has a gubernatorial race and congressional races in the November election.

At its annual meeting Thursday the group also elected three vice presidents: Charles S. Bowden, Pennsylvania Power Co., New Castle; Ray W. Hurd, West Penn Power Co., Greensburg; and Everett L. Palmer, Pennsylvania Power and Light Co., Allentown.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Lt. Gen. Izidor R. Modelska, 74, Polish military attaché who aided U.S. intelligence officers on espionage activities on the Soviet Union and its satellites, died Tuesday.

The infant, born early last Saturday, was found a few hours later by some boys playing along the river bank.

She was ordered held without bail in the Lycoming County jail at Williamsport for the grand jury meeting in November.
